MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT BILL, 2013

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 In South Africa, as in every country, infrastructure underpins economic and social development. Both the New Growth Path and the National Development Plan stress the importance of infrastructure as a jobs driver. They agree that a central task for the state is to ensure that infrastructure grows sufficiently to serve the expanding economy and population, and that it is built, operated and maintained efficiently and cost-effectively.
- 1.2 Investment in infrastructure is a particular imperative for South Africa because apartheid was characterised by underinvestment in infrastructure in black communities, especially in the rural areas. This situation hobbled economic and social development in these regions, making it more difficult for enterprises to take advantage of economic opportunities and undermining efforts to improve health, education and security.
- 1.3 Given scarce resources, addressing these backlogs while maintaining adequate infrastructure for the economy and fast-growing areas requires careful prioritisation and collaboration. The division of responsibilities for infrastructure across the state, from the national departments to state-owned companies to municipalities and regulatory bodies, leads to the risk of contradictory plans and priorities or uncoordinated implementation with cost-raising and development-dampening effects.
- 1.4 To ensure a more strategic and coordinated response to these challenges, in October 2011 the government established the Presidential Infrastructure Coordinating Commission (PICC). The Commission is led by the President with the main infrastructure and economics Ministers, Premiers of Provinces, mayors of the metros and the chair of the South African Local Government Association (SALGA) as members. Work is coordinated through a Management Committee made up of members drawn from the PICC. The PICC is backed by a Secretariat comprised of Ministers and Deputy Ministers, and a technical team.
- 1.5 Since its establishment, the PICC has succeeded in bringing about a more coherent, visionary and large-scale infrastructure programme. Key achievements include the following:
 - In February 2012, Cabinet adopted the first National Infrastructure Plan, which was developed by the PICC. The Plan identifies 18 Strategic Integrated Projects (SIPs), which constitute related projects required to achieve core outcomes, including regional development, improved social services and enhanced logistics, energy security, water supply and access to broadband as well as social infrastructure such as schools, universities, sanitation systems, hospitals and clinics.
 - The PICC designated public agencies to coordinate each SIP and convened launches that brought together key stakeholders across the state, ensuring clarity about their responsibilities.
 - The share of public investment has risen from a post-2008 low of 6,7% of the GDP at the end of 2010 to 7,3% in the third quarter of 2013. The New Growth Path sets a target of 10%.
 - The PICC has established a system to ensure quarterly monitoring and evaluation of progress on SIPs, and intervenes to support progress as required.

2. OBJECTIVES OF THE BILL

- 2.1 The Bill provides a legal mandate for the PICC and its structures, and for maintenance of the National Infrastructure Plan. Specifically:
- it maintains the national structures of the PICC as currently constituted;
 - it mandates the designation of SIPs as part of the National Infrastructure Plan, effectively setting national priorities for the infrastructure programme;
 - it identifies key developmental elements of the infrastructure programme;
 - it clarifies the role of departments and agencies in managing SIPs;
 - it establishes procedures and structures to minimise unnecessary delays in planning SIPs and in obtaining authorisations, permits and licences for the projects that they incorporate; and
 - it empowers the PICC and its structures to monitor, evaluate and where necessary support implementation of infrastructure in a developmental manner.

3. DETAILED ANALYSIS OF THE PROVISIONS OF THE BILL

- 3.1 Clauses 1 and 2 comprise the definition section and the objects of the Act, which are essentially as stated above. It includes definitions that ensure that SIPs can only encompass infrastructure that is publically owned, part of a public-private partnership, or concessioned. The objects require that any person exercising a power under the Act do so in a manner that is consistent with the Constitution and, in particular, with the functional competences of the different spheres of government.
- 3.2 Clauses 3 and 4 provide for the structures of the PICC and determine the functions of the PICC Council as its lead structure. The Council's members comprise the President, Deputy President, Ministers nominated by the President, all Premiers and the executive mayors of the metropolitan councils and the chair of SALGA, with the President as chair. Clause 4 defines the functions of the PICC as developing, maintaining, and coordinating the implementation and monitoring of the National Infrastructure Plan; designating SIPs and ensuring co-operation across the state to implement them; evaluating the impact of infrastructure projects on economic and developmental goals; addressing obstacles to implementation of infrastructure plans; and maximising their developmental outcomes.
- 3.3 Clause 5 gives the PICC, or a Minister whom it designates, the right to expropriate land in the public interest as well as for a public purpose, but otherwise applying the Expropriation Act, 1975 (Act No. 63 of 1975).
- 3.4 Clause 6 empowers the President to establish a Management Committee for the PICC and determine its members from amongst the members of the PICC, and defines its functions. The Management Committee acts on behalf of the Council in between meetings of the Council and, like the Council itself, includes members from all spheres of the State.
- 3.5 Clause 7 establishes the criteria for designating a SIP, based essentially on its national importance and/or scale, and its inclusion in the National Infrastructure Plan. It empowers the PICC to designate a Minister as the SIP chair, with the responsibility in particular of chairing a forum of relevant executive authorities. The forum aims to ensure coordinated leadership and support across the state.

- 3.6. Clause 8 provides that the PICC must determine if a SIP should be put out to tender and, in that case, empowers the PICC to identify a Minister to request that the relevant Accounting Officer manage the tender. This section aims to ensure that tenders are undertaken in a timely and coordinated fashion, even where several different agencies are concerned — for instance, where building a school will also require the construction of water, sewage and transport facilities.
- 3.7 Clause 9 establishes the Secretariat of the Commission. It is chaired by the Minister of Economic Development and comprises relevant Ministers and Deputy Ministers as determined by the President. The Secretariat is responsible for driving implementation of the SIPs, appointing their coordinators and steering committees, monitoring and evaluating progress, and issuing guidelines and frameworks for the implementation of the SIPs.
- 3.8 Under Clause 10, the Secretariat will designate a SIP steering committee for each SIP and oversee their functioning. Clause 11 provides that the steering committees develop plans for the SIP and manage their implementation, including helping address specific regulatory delays and other blockages, and securing developmental outcomes. Clause 12 establishes that the steering committees are chaired by SIP coordinators, which are generally a relevant department or other state agency, and their members represent relevant state entities, the Construction Industry Development Board (CIDB), and where appropriate experts appointed by the PICC Secretariat. For individual projects, the relevant Director-General or head of a public entity remains as the Accounting Officer under the applicable legislation.
- 3.9 Clause 13 includes rigorous provisions to prevent conflict of interest on the part of steering committee members.
- 3.10 Clauses 14 and 15 establish procedures to ensure that processes required to implement a SIP, including approvals, licences, authorisations and exemptions, should be managed as expeditiously and effectively as possible. Clause 16 provides for SIP procedures and resourcing. Clause 17 promotes more coordinated and efficient applications for authorisations, licensing and exemptions by the SIPs, with a general timeframe provided in Schedule 2.
- 3.11 Clause 18 provides for SIPs to take advantage of the full range of environmental management instruments permitted under NEMA.
- 3.12 Clause 19 requires the Minister of Economic Development to report regularly to the Council and Management Committee on progress in each SIP. Clause 20 permits the Minister to delegate her or his powers as required, as well as permitting the delegation of powers by the relevant authority to members of the Steering Committees. Under Clause 21, the Minister for Economic Development may regulate and set guidelines or targets for criteria for implementation of the SIPs, including on skills development, local industrialisation, the Green Economy, and broad-based BEE. These regulations cannot override the main legislation but rather identify how they should be applied in the process of implementing the SIPs.
- 3.13 Clause 22 includes transitional provisions, specifically to sustain the SIPs that are already underway. Clause 23 provides the short title and commencement date.
- 3.14 The Bill has three schedules. Schedule 1 defines the scope of the Act, essentially comprising major kinds of infrastructure. The SIPs represent subsets of these classes of infrastructure, not all of that kind of infrastructure. Schedule 2 provides timeframes for SIP planning and public consultation. Schedule 3 lists the current SIPs to ensure they are maintained when the law comes into force.

4. DEPARTMENTS OR BODIES CONSULTED

The Bill was drafted by the Economic Development Department in consultation with the Office of the Chief State Law Adviser and the PICC Management Committee. The Bill was gazetted for comment on 6 February 2013, and the comments have been taken into consideration. Nedlac was consulted and agreed that the Bill falls outside of the National Economic, Development and Labour Council Act, 1994 (Act No. 35 of 1994), since it essentially relates to the internal organisation of the state. Comments were also received through the Portfolio Committee on Economic Development in November 2013, with verbal submissions and follow-up submissions in January 2014. These submissions have in some cases led to amendments to the Bill.

5. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

Departmental budgets will, through the normal budgetary processes, cover the cost of infrastructure programmes and coordination

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 6.1 The Bill has been tagged as a Bill that must be dealt with in terms of section 76 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996.
- 6.2 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
